Mike Eagan

He perceptively speeds through this and other everyday experiences with radar-gun precision and hilarious results. Mike's television appearances include Caroline's Comedy Hour on A&E, An Evening at the Improv on A&E, The Valentines Day Massacre on pay per view with Andrew Dice Clay. Angel Salazar

Angel is not your typical comedian. His Cuban/Puerto Rican heritage and penchant for sporting mini-skirts notwithstanding, this manic, human laugh factory is rather difficult to describe. Salazar's performance is a mixture of street-smart ethnic wisecracks, risky humor, physical comedy, and audience involvement. Angel is also an established actor, who has appeared in films such as "Scarface," "Punch line," "Carlito's Way," and "Where the Buffalo Roam." He was also featured in Cheech and Chong's comedy video "Born in East L.A." He has headlined at The Comedy Store in L.A., The Dunes Hotel in Las Vegas, Catch a Rising Star in New York City, and The Tropicana Hotel in Atlantic City. This diminutive comic is achieving success on a grand scale. As Angel implores you in his act: "Check it out!"
